

Clairvoyant Angelic Healing

Angelic Healing is an amazing way to heal body & Soul. Angels insightfully bring forward key themes for consideration and healing, revealing challenging patterns that may have spanned one's entire life.

Through clairvoyance and other higher sensibilities, we have learned to perceive Angelic guidance. They unveil the Aura revealing challenged areas in one's consciousness by referencing ancient archetypes from Kabbalah, astrology and Tarot. They show dissociated energies belonging to the Soul (Soul fragments) and to specific body structures (e.g., the pelvis, a kidney, a "broken-heart") or the entire body which we call "aspects" or "doubles"). They uncloak parasitic entities such as attached ghosts, elementals, demons, and even other worldly presences with their implants. They reveal co-dependent connections we call "tubes" or "hooks" between people, and portray the quality of the core energy structures that convey life energies from "Source."

Seen at the highest level, physical existence stimulates Soul growth and Divine self-realization, a work of many lifetimes. The path in a given lifetime is rarely easy and the Soul typically incarnates with challenges and unfinished business to work out through the vehicle of a chosen personality.

Actions, thoughts, emotions and beliefs arise from an underlying state of mind which comprises the multidimensional human energy field, aka the Aura. In an ideal world, a person has fully incarnated their Soul bringing with them a strong sense of identity and a well integrated, coherent mind. This allows energy to flow smoothly in the body promoting vibrant physical health and an overall sense of personal well being. However, people are rarely so "together" and their energy system may suffer from dissociation, incoherence and zones of negativity. This in turn disrupts healthy energy flow in the body tissues, attracts parasitic astral entity attachments and creates dis-ease in the body and the mind.

The good news is Angels are not only messengers but healers. Having bestowed increased awareness, they compassionately assist their charges to heal and grow. When they are invited by those they assist (they respect your will) Angels can powerfully help, instantaneously and over time, to restore health to Soul, mind and body.
